Officine Mistrello, well known in the flat glass sector for its production of racks for glass sheets of various sizes, has enlarged its product line with automatic loading and unloading systems.

The GL6000 E ML3210 Loading/Unloading System interfaces with the automatic racks forming a true stock selector. This system is incredibly versatile as it works from floor level and can, therefore, be used by many different types and sizes of glassworks, in this way automating the cutting lines of small, medium and large glassworks.

The loaders/unloaders can feed one or more cutting tables, due to pick up and positioning times shorter than standard times, in complete safety.

The most recent product of Officine Mistrello is the Bridge Stock Selector that, like the loader/unloader, interfaces with automatic racks forming a stock selector.

The Bridge Stock Selector is able to satisfy any kind of demand and can be combined with one or more parallel warehouse racks. Thanks to the technology used, the selector is very fast and able to feed one or more cutting lines.
